Last night I ordered an entire meal in French, and even the waiter was surprised. It was a Chinese restaurant.

WOMEN DOMINATE TROPICAL MELTDOWN CONTESTS FRIENDS OF YODER PLAY LAST GIG

Feb. 16 was abuzz with the tropical spirit, “if you can’t afford to go to the islands because of time or money THEN pretend at Bailey Ray’s.” It was a mixed bag of emotions because it was also the end of the line for performances by the one and only “Friends of Yoder”. They played beautifully and the girls slammed all male participants in the hoola hoop, limbo, and bottle sucking contests for $25 prizes. Michelle pictured above with Gus, [who knows why he’s in the pic?], won the limbo contest. Amber, pictured with Heather who is neck hoolahoopin’ won the Hoola Hoop contest, and Bev in white on the top far left photo, managed to suck the cranberry punch thru a baby bottle. We will miss the Yoders. What a Blast it was! Thanks to everyone for the great time!

CAST FROM THE PAST: Rosie Woolard Enjoying the Backyard

Santiago: She worked for nearly every bar owner in Santiago, was a great cook, enjoyed the time she had and is still in the hearts and minds of folks around here. We commemorate her because of the hardworking and fun-loving person she was. Cancer took her life just before the Bailey Rays fire of 2006. We still carry on as much as possible cooking from scratch, making home made soups, and keeping the kitchen clean as Rosie always did. Had she been here we are sure she would still be working here and we know she would love the new place as many do. Our hats off to her family, especially her grandchildren, who keep on working their way through life. We miss you Rosie!

Don't sit in a restaurant by the tank where they keep lobsters, it's very depressing. Lobsters always have that look, "any word from the Governor". Jeni

THINK VOLLEYBALL!

It only seems fitting that this month's column should also have a dedication to Rosie Woolard. I met Rosie a few years back when I was working at the old Bailey Ray's. She was a kind, gentle woman and being a few hundred miles from my own Grandma, I couldn't help but somewhat look at her as that figure. Of all the recipes Rosie showed me that I use consistently to this day is her dumpling/noodle recipe. Just as she shared it with me, I would like to share it with all of you.

2.5 cups of all purpose flour, 6 egg yolks, 3 whole eggs, salt to taste, and water to the desired consistency. Place the first four ingredients in a mixing bowl and mix together by hand. Then add water accordingly. If making dumplings add cold tap water until a thick yet smooth batter is formed. Drop the dumplings by the spoonful into a slow boiling soup. If making noodles add cold tap water until a thick, sticky batter is formed. Lightly sprinkle flour onto a cutting board and roll to desired thickness. Using a pizza cutter, cut the noodles to desired length and width. Then simply drop into the soup. This is just one of the many recipes Rosie shared with me but by far the one I enjoy and do use the most. I hope you find this recipe as entertaining as I did. Dave

VALENTINE'S ROMANCE: Bill and Donna share a romantic dinner as did Scott Phillips of Edina Realty with his wife and friends. Terry still likes Ray after 30 years and Diane still likes Gary. Thanks to all who dined.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Gossip Pig, the man pictured to the right was recently seen in Santiago. Is this Jerry Garcia, or Santa Claus? Signed curious Elvis hunter.

Dear Elvis hunter, You need to find better things to do with your life. Elvis is dead and Santa never lived. This is a hard working man out in these parts. He's got a life. You should get one.

Dear Gossip pig, I'm totally broke. What should I do? Signed No Nest Egg

Dear No Nest Egg, It is ok to be at zero. Think of it, you'll die with nothing and you can leave it to the kids, none of this is all yours.

Dear Gossip Pig, I am 47 years old and still going on bad dates. What is wrong with me? Signed unhappy.

Dear Unhappy, By now you should be in a bad marriage.

Dear Gossip Pig, My husband tries to control me, doesn't appreciate me, and always has to be right. What can I do? Signed Sick of It.

Dear Sick of it, It has been discovered that if you go long periods of time without water you will get real thirsty.

Dear Gossip Pig, Is it possible to really share childbirth? Signed man just wondering

Dear man Just Wondering, Only if you circumcise yourself with a chainsaw.

Dear Gossip Pig, I need gambling help. I am so addicted to gambling. Should I join Gamblers Anonymous? Signed hopelessly addicted
Dear Hopelessly Addicted, I'll give you 3 to 1 you won't make it.

Dear Gossip Pig, Who are you? Signed Nosy.

Dear Nosy, Get a rhinoplasty!
